

Enhance Your Professional Career

Enhance your reputation and increase your earnings power by investing in a Real Property Administrator education. Specialized RPA courses will teach you to meet financial goals, address legal issues, and streamline building operations. You will learn how to maximize a property's net income while minimizing risks. And you will closely examine environmental concerns, energy management, and ethics in business.

(RPA)

Facilities Management Administrator – Through the FMA program you will learn about design and operation of building systems, maintenance and new technologies , and how to evaluate your current services and set-up. You will gain skills in strategic planning and project management, corporate finance and capital investment, and physical asset management. The FMA program will teach you to understand the details of today's work environments, helping you maximize your resources to achieve the objectives of your organization.

The Systems Maintenance Technician (SMT) and Systems Maintenance Administrator

(SMA) designations are recognized marks of excellence that will give you the skills to set you apart as a top technician. These professional designation programs offer a proven path of study to help you maintain complex building systems, raising your companies profits while reducing operating costs.

If you are interested in Self-Study Courses please contact BOMI at 410-974-1410.

All webinars will be available FREE of charge to BOMA members. Location for viewing will be sent when location becomes available.

For information or to register please contact Stephanie at smgeiser@bomacincinnati.org or call 513-6

21-8382